confident of success in the coming municipal campaign. It would be strange indeed if it were otherwise, considering the conditions prevailing at the present time, not only locally, but throughout the nation. Under the guiding hand of a Republican administration our country has been rescued in the last three years from Democratic darkness and despair, with its panics and its armies of idle workmen, into the full light of the present splendid prosperity.

ine full light of the present appears, prespectly.

"So far as our city ticket is concerned. I find it is generally conceded to be a good ticket, made up of strong, capable, cloan men. Of course, that is the important consideration in any campaign. Our city is debt-ridden, and for that reason it cannot forge ahead with improvements as rapidly as could be desired. The taxes are high and interest on the bonds consume a good share of the municipal revenues. These conditions are a legacy left us, not by a Republican administration, as has been

The Silver Question.

"I note that the Democratic orators are still harping on the silver question as if it cut a figure in municipal politics and by their arguments they seek to hold Exra Thompson and the Republican candidates for city councilmen responsible because silver has not been restored to the column.

At the Republican raily in the theaire last night a fair-minded audience expuresed its disapproval of the only campaign thunder the Lannanite party is pressing with much vigor. A. S. Geddes, with his little bottle of colored water, alieged to have been taken from the Parley's campon, was the object of the crowd's indignation.

When Mr. Geddes got up to give his little lecture on water diseases and microbes, many left the theatre. Those who remained issensed for a short time in slience. Then Geddes' fakes became so apparent that he was interrupted by groans and hisses. Enrely has such a scene been witnessed at a Salt Lake gathering. Those who openly protested belonged to his own party, for the Democratis any it would said them extremely well if Geddes could be prevailed upon to make six or seven speeches every day.

Postmaster Thomas' Break.

Another distinct feature of the rally was a broak made by Postmaster Thomas. In the maddle of his speech he inquired of his audience if anything was the matter with Ekra Thompson. He was informed that Exra was strictly up to grade. Then quoth the postmaster:

that he had made a break, however, and he made no effort to explain it.

Anyhody who went to the theatre last hight had no trouble in finding a scal, he matter how late he came. This was partly on account of the weather, but people who attended both meetings could not help noting the startling contrast between last right's gathering and the magnificent audience that filled the theatre on the occasion of the Demogratic rally Saturday night.

Neither was on hand, however, Judge Goodule said early in the afternion that the amounteement that he would speak was entirely unauthorized. He said he had sever had any idea of making an address. Last night Governor Wells, who presided, read a note of texted from Judge Goodulu, in which he ex-champion of silver said it was has acquired a competence by hard knocks with the world and through his own energy and business sagacity. "He is not a number as has been alleged. He is not a sporting men, except that he is fond of legitimate sports and he is an ardent lover of a good horse as which of us is not. But all the cartoons of the comic papers cannot change the record in this community of Eara Thompson as an honest, conscientious, capable, manly man and one who will make an ideal mayor for Sait Lake City. It is entirely in his favor that his detractors can find nothing more to say about him than that be drives a good horse.

"A careful comparison of the remainder of our ticket will disclose the fact that the rest of our candidates are quite the peers from every standboint of those of the opposition, and they have this advantage that they belong to a party that stands for good government, for progressive ideas, for protection to American industries, protection to American industries, protection to American citizens whether at home or abroad, protection to American to the American flag.
